

Hi, my name is Lindsay Castleton. I am completely thrilled to be here! The most important thing you should know about me is, I LOVE children! I come from a family of 8 kids and currently have 8 nieces and nephews who I absolutely adore. I've been an avid soccer player since the moment I could walk and now enjoy teaching youngsters the beautiful game. I also love to paint and draw in my spare time.

This summer I had the amazing opportunity to participate in a worthwhile humanitarian trip to Peru. We were fortunate enough to work with the children of the village. It was awesome to see how kids are the same all over the world, each containing an inspiring excitement for life and an incredible capacity to love. I look forward to working with your children and helping them have a positive school experience.
