

Ciao Tutti! (Greetings everyone!)

My name is Megan Whitlock, and I am a Tiger teacher. I am new to The Winner School. I am a very active person with a love for people of all ages, shapes, and sizes.

I was born in Rupert, Idaho. As a young girl, I gave up ballet shoes for a basketball and volleyball. I love to play all sports and have taught many youth. In High School I began babysitting for friends and family. A few years later I became a camp counselor in New Hampshire during my summer break from college. I volunteered during college at after-school programs and at Head Start. One of my greatest volunteer experiences was working at a shelter with children who came from homes of domestic violence. It has further encouraged me to seek a career in helping fellow human beings. In December 2009, I graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Marriage and Family Studies from BYU-Idaho.

Eight months later, I left everything and went to Italy to eat food and to teach English. There I learned some Italian and lived in Turin, Florence, and Rome. After nine incredible months, I said goodbye to the Colosseum and came back home to Idaho and then to Salt Lake City.

Life at The Winner School is a brand new chapter of a great and wonderful adventure. I can't wait for the many exciting experiences to come with the Tiger toddlers!
